

Personalized Online Classes with Mark Luongo

Son of renowned ukulele educate Peter Luongo and long-time collaborator with James Hill, Mark has been teaching ukulele his entire adult life! A former member of the Langley Ukulele Ensemble, Mark has offered private and group lessons as well as numerous festival workshops since 2002. Mark has been offering video conference lessons since 2014 maintaining an international roster of students since.

Whether your goal is to grow in fundamental strum and pick techniques, learn more about music history, play intermediate level instrumentals or take on sophisticated chord melody arrangements Mark has the skill and knowledge to guide you!

His online lessons make use of a free program called VSee and works on everything from Mac and PC to iPad, iPhone and Android.

For more information Mark can be reached at markluongo@hotmail.com

